

JULIA NEWMAN

BIOGRAPHY

Julia Newman is a Los Angeles based film composer and songwriter with a long family history in entertainment. She is the daughter of composer Thomas Newman and one of only two female composers in the Newman dynasty. After receiving a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from California Institute of the Arts, she went on to attend USC's prestigious Screen Scoring Program, graduating with a Masters degree in the spring of 2020. She has worked across a variety of media platforms including short films, documentaries, web series and games. Her harmonic and textural sensibilities along with an innate understanding of what constitutes drama set her sound apart and make her, at once, recognizable and culturally relevant.
